Beautiful Gladiolus

We grow an enormous quantity of beautiful Gladiolus on our own seed and bulb farm. Our list below is selected with great care, and there is not a variety that will not produce from one to three spikes of this beautiful garden flower. All bulbs listed are of the very largest size and you will find that they will produce more and better flowers than some of the small bulbs supplied by some of our competitors in the cities. Everything postpaid.

CULTURE—"Glads" should always be planted in a sunny situation and not along side of walls or buildings as the temperature is subject to many violent changes. To grow extra large flowers, plant about five inches apart and apply liquid manure about every ten days, or old barnyard fertilizer used as a mulch after planting is also good. Plant about 3 inches deep.
